PROFILE

IN ONE BREATH

Eleven years building products for web and mobile. Today I run the frontend team at Harley & Dickinson: technical direction, microfrontend architecture, the shared design system — and the AI-augmented workflow the team now ships on.

EXPERIENCE

4 ROLES

01

Harley & Dickinson

SENIOR FRONTEND DEVELOPER / TECH LEADER

OCT 2024 — PRESENT

CINISELLO BALSAMO

- Technical direction of the frontend team: architecture decisions, mentoring, code reviews, hiring and technical interviews.
- Designed and evolved a microfrontend architecture (Module Federation) and the shared design system used across products.
- Introduced and standardized AI-augmented workflows: Claude-based tooling, project conventions (CLAUDE.md), custom skills and prompt patterns for scaffolding, refactoring and code review — raising both throughput and code consistency.
- Hands-on across the stack when needed: WebRTC/VoIP integrations (SIP.js, Asterisk/FreePBX), CI/CD pipelines on Google Cloud (Cloud Build, GKE).

02

MyFamily Srl

ABOUT THIS SHEET

This is not a PDF. It is a web page — HTML and CSS, two colors, set in Bricolage Grotesque and Archivo on a 768 × 1086 grid, folded into A4 by the same browser that printed it. The moving version is at albertoquaglia.dev.
